Mental Health Matters

One in five youth in our community struggle with their mental health making it difficult to go to school, hang out with friends and participate in community activities. Bullying, peer pressure, doing well in school, family breakdown, poverty, illness . . . children carry far more than the weight of their backpack on their shoulders. And while we cannot always change a child's circumstances, we can reach out to them with understanding and help. We can help them cope with life's ups and downs. For information on mental health resources in Clay County click on mental health services at www.claycountymn.gov or www.claycountycollaborative.org

For some children their book bag isn't the only thing weighing them down.

The first to get a "SPUDS" will win the Grand Prize! Keep playing to get entered into a drawing for even more prizes.
